Whatever the occasion, when you want a fantastic restaurant experience, look no further than Ferrera's Fine Dining.

① Sample unique dishes from our menu designed by Chef Gilberto Ferrera, the well-known host of the television cooking show The Silver Spoon. ② If you reserve a table in the courtyard, you'll have a perfect view of the live performances while dining outdoors. ③ The musical lineup changes every night! And ④ to receive a complimentary beverage for everyone in your party, just tell your server that you want to use promo code FERRERA.

Questions 74 through 76 refer to the following telephone message.

Hi Ms. Goldberg, it's Henry. Since you're out of the office today, ¹I'm calling to report on how the meeting with the production team went. ²We started off by talking about your idea to use a less expensive manufacturer in another state for our watches. And... ³the team did bring up one problem. Right now, it takes only one day for our products to get from the factory to the local retail stores. ⁴If we go with a new factory, then shipping could take a lot longer. Anyway, could you call me back so we can discuss it more?

Questions 77 through 79 refer to the following excerpt from a meeting.

Good morning, everyone. ¹At your seat, you'll find copies of the twenty applications we've received for the open position here in our advertising department. The applications include a cover letter, résumé, and the sample advertisements each candidate has submitted. ²Our task today is to choose our top four candidates, and we have this room until eleven thirty. ³After we make our selections, I'll contact those candidates and schedule their interviews for next week. ⁴Please pay special attention to applicants who can use the latest computer software. ⁵Since most of our ads are designed by computer, this skill will be essential.

Questions 80 through 82 refer to the following introduction.

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. ① Thank you for joining us at the Jamestown Concert Hall. I am pleased to introduce Jin-Ho Shin, who is giving his first piano concert here in Jamestown tonight. ② Mr. Shin's career is interesting because he's traveled almost nonstop for the past several years. ③ In the last year alone, he has performed in over 60 cities in 20 different countries. Before he takes the stage, ④ I'd like to remind you to turn off your mobile phones to prevent interruptions during the performance.

Questions 83 through 85 refer to the following broadcast.

In other news, ① the Hadmonton mayor's office reports that the town's Environmental Awareness Month is off to a great start. ② This program aims to educate the public about local environmental issues, especially protecting Hadmonton Beach. This past week, ③ the organizing committee has been giving away free beach towels made from 100 percent recycled materials. ④ If you'd like one, these great products are available at special kiosks along Hadmonton Beach. But there aren't many towels left! ⑤ And now, on the line is Greg Wilson from the mayor's office to give us more information. ⑥ Welcome, Greg.
